TRUMAN TO MAKE APPEAL TO MINERS

Osgood Industries To Shut Down Friday

900 WORKERS AFFECTED BY CLOSING ORDER

Coal Strike and Resulting Embargo on Freight Bring First Suspension Here.

First serious blow to Marion industry as a result of the coal strike came today with an announcement that the Osgood Co. and affiliated industrial concerns including the Alloy Cast Steel Co., General Excavator Co. and Commercial Steel Casting Co. will shut down operations Friday.

The lay-off order will take effect after the night shift Friday and the action by the four plants will result in the lay-off of approximately 800 employes at the end of their regular turns tomorrow, with out 100 more in the maintenance, receiving and plant operating departments to be laid off within the next few days as soon as the plants are put in standby condition.

Notices posted in the four plants at noon today read "Because of the coal shortage and general freight embargo, all plant operations will be suspended at the end of the regular working schedules for this week, unless some major change occurs. We regret that we have been forced into this action by the national developments, and we will start up again just as soon as possible. The notice was signed by M. C. McNeil, president.

Embargo Brings Action

Officers of the companies said their plants had coal supplies which might have allowed operations for a few more days. However, the imposition of the freight embargo which goes into effect at midnight tonight, making it impossible for them to either receive raw materials or ship finished products, forced the decision to shut down at this time. They said that if the coal strike should be ended and the freight embargo lifted within the next few days, operations could be resumed immediately. Beyond that the schedule would have to depend on future development.

Meanwhile, other Marion industries were considering measures which might be taken to cope with the government embargo.

Officials of the Universal Cooler division of the International Detrola Corp. reported the company was continuing to operate on schedule but said they were uncertain how long that schedule could be maintained. Provisions were being made at the company to provide its own trucking facilities in order to get materials and supplies in and out of its plant.

J. B. Bray, president of the Fairfield Engineering Co. stated "We shall run as long as conditions permit." Beginning today the night force was combined with the day shift at the plant in order to conserve coal, Mr. Bray said.

D. A. Howard, president and general manager of the Huber Manufacturing Co. said the company is operating on schedule and would continue to do so for the remainder of this week.

Overtime Cut

The Marion Power Shovel Co. has cut all overtime and M. E. Montrose, president and general manager, has reported the company is operating the best it can under present conditions.

The embargo is expected to cut express shipments here by between 75 and 80 per cent.

E. J. Salter, Railway Express agent here, predicted the embargo

Coal Expected For Galion Industries

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 5—Galion industries, which closed today for what had been expected to be the duration of the coal strike, probably will reopen next Monday, Mayor William Amman announced this morning, after receiving a promise of coal from a source he did not reveal.

He said, however, that city officials were in contact with interests in West Virginia which have promised to provide this city of 10,000 with a carload of coal a day. It will take four or five days before the first load arrives, the mayor said.

Two coal will be enough to put Galion's 17 shutdown industries and 1,000 unemployed men back to work, Amman said.

Alan Goldsborough fine him $10,000 and his United Mine Workers $3,500,000 for contempt of court in refusing to keep the miners in the pits—an act that the judge declared "is not one of a lone law-breaker, but an evil, demoniac, monstrous thing." Ohio Railroads Hard-Hit As Strike Piles Up Unemployment

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5—As the soft coal mine shutdown entered its third week today, unemployment mounted among Ohio railroaders because of a newly ordered 25 per cent cut in passenger runs and a freight embargo scheduled to take effect Sunday.

At least 800 railroaders here have been furloughed because of the strike, and lay-offs of others were imminent. In Toledo rail officials expected several hundred more employes to be added to approximately 300 New York Central system workers idled by the first service cut. In Cleveland the Erie railroad announced that 4,000 persons would be laid off Friday and Sunday, in addition to 450 already made idle because of the coal shortage.

H. D. Barber, operating vice president of the Erie, said 20 additional passenger trains would be discontinued and freight train operations reduced by 60 per cent to comply with the government's latest coal conservation orders, bringing an estimated daily wage loss of $50,000 to train crewmen and shop workers.

To Extend Diesel Run

Barber said the Erie would handle only freight shipments from and to points on its lines and would extend diesel electric freight operations 103 miles to Salamanca, N. Y., on the run from Marion, O., which previously ended at Meadville, Pa.

Passenger trains which will be discontinued next Monday under an ODT order include: No. 2, the Erie limited, Chicago to Jersey City; No. 7, the Pacific Express, Jersey City to Chicago; Nos. 665 and 679, Pittsburgh to Cleveland; Nos. 626 and 686, Cleveland to Pittsburgh, and 51 trains which had been operating suburban runs in northern New Jersey.

In Cleveland, A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Reid Robinson, CIO-mine, mill and smelter workers union president, assailed the government for fining John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

Columbus Hard Hit

A survey here disclosed that 75 per cent of Columbus' small industrial plants employing 250 or fewer workers would have to close within a month if the strike continued. Four large manufacturers employing a total of more than 4,000 workers said a freight embargo would cause them to cut operations sharply or close altogether within a few days because of a lack of storage space or raw materials.

At Zanesville, the Detroit Harvester Co. which employs 500 workers, announced it would shut down Friday night because of the rail embargo. It has been operating on a 25-hour week because of the coal shortage. The plant makes tractors, mainly for export.

In Cleveland, the Chamber of Commerce estimated the freight embargo would idle 100,000 persons by Dec. 14, with heavy manufacturing hardest hit.

Cincinnati's Chamber of Commerce industrial director, Col. Fred T. Bass, expected 50,000 workers there to be idled in 10 days.

OAKLAND MASS STRIKE ENDS

Agreement Reached To Halt Crippling General Walkout.

By The Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 5—The city of Oakland and AFL leaders today reached an agreement to end a general strike which has strangled commerce in East Bay cities for two days.

Oakland City Manager John F. Hassler said a return to work order would be given to all union business agents at a meeting today at 10 a. m. (1 p. m. E.S.T.).

A union statement confirmed the agreement based on the conditions that police would not be used in breaking picket lines and that city officials remain neutral in labor disputes. Hassler said he gave assurances meeting the union conditions.

Reached This Morning

The agreement was reached at an early morning meeting after some 1,000,000 East Bay residents found all transportation tied up, food and other necessities in short supply and the city of Oakland under a state of emergency with full police powers voted to the mayor.

The general strike, fifth of its kind in the history of the American labor movement, moved toward a close shortly after announcement that the AFL teamsters union and the Independent

LEWIS WEIGHS FINE PAYMENT, OTHER MOVES

"Try and Get It" May Be Union's Answer to Penalties Levied.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—John L. Lewis, continuing his relentless throttle on soft coal production, conferred with his lawyers today on whether the United Mine Workers should answer their $3,500,000 contempt judgment with a "try and get it."

As the conference went forward at UMW headquarters—and the industry-trangling coal strike showed no signs of abating—it became known that President Truman would appeal directly to the miners.

Officials close to the president said he will broadcast his appeal within a few days, possibly Sunday night.

Questions Confront Lewis

Questions confronting the Lewis legal battery included:

1. Whether to post bond to cover the $3,500,000 fine on the union, and if so how it is to be raised. (The $10,000 fine on Lewis personally will be covered by a bond before 3 p. m. the union lawyers told Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.)

2. Whether to appeal at once to the circuit court of appeals, or adopt delaying tactics. The legal staff left no doubt that an appeal will be taken, but the timing was problematical.

3. The prospect of a new contempt citation, if Lewis continues to ignore Judge Goldsborough's reaffirmed order to call off the strike.

4. The possibility of prosecution under the Smith-Connally act, which makes it a penal offense to incite or encourage strikes against the government.

May Call Off Strike

There was still a chance that Lewis might decide to call off the strike, which began Nov. 21 after "termination" by Lewis on his contract with the government.

The UMW risks a $250,000 additional fine every day that the strike continues in defiance of a temporary injunction which Goldsborough issued yesterday.

Lewis also is risking a jail term which he escaped yesterday. Goldsborough said he thought a prison sentence would be proper for Lewis, but bowed to the government recommendation for a fine instead.

From every outward indication, the bushy-browed miners' leader was determined to take jail, or what may come, rather than yield to a court order he contends is illegal and withdraw his termination of the UMWs contract with the government.

With the grim deadlock confronting the country, a group of railway unions issued a plea that Lewis and the government both call the whole thing off and let a presidential commission settle all issues.

List 5 Proposals

The railway labor executives association, representing most of the rail unions, proposed:

"1. The decision of the district federal court be held in abeyance;

"2. The miners agree to return to work immediately;

"3. The President appoint a disinterested commission to promptly inquire into the complaints of the miners regarding hours of work, wages and working conditions and report its recommendations in 30 days from date of appointment, and the same shall become effective as of the date the miners return to work;

"4. That all parties agree to accept the recommendations of the commission; and

"5. That the pending court proceeding be vacated and dismissed."

Possible Peace Feeler

The association's proposal was regarded in some quarters as a possible peace feeler inspired by the United Mine Workers' own AFL. Several of the rail unions are affiliated with the AFL.

There was no immediate comment from government officials or from UMW.

Attorneys for the mine workers and for the government pressed plans to get an early supreme court ruling on the contempt of court conviction under which federal district Judge T. Alan Goldsborough fined the UMW $3,500,000 and Lewis $10,000 personally.

The justice department hoped to steer the Lewis-UMW appeal directly into the highest court, bypassing the in-between circuit court of appeals. The high court could conceivably announce Monday whether it will take the case

Talk Set For Sunday P. M. Aides Reveal

White House Says Presidential Speech To Discuss Entire Picture.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 — President Truman will address the nation on the coal strike crisis at 9:30 p. m. Sunday.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters today Mr. Truman would speak for about 20 minutes on the situation growing out of the coal strike, which has brought mounting unemployment and has stymied reconverting industry.

Ross said the President was giving serious thought to the preparation of the speech and it might run longer than 20 minutes.

What Mr. Truman will say will depend on the state of affairs at the time he does on the air, he added.

Declines To Speculate

Ross declined to speculate on the possibility of a settlement of the strike prior to the broadcast, which will be carried by all major networks.

It will be the President's first talk to the nation since he announced the removal of meat controls in mid-October.

Mr. Truman is expected to appeal to the striking soft coal miners over the head of John L. Lewis to go back to work.

He was said to have withheld his decision to make the speech until Lewis' contempt of court trial was concluded.

End of the trial had brought fresh prodding by congress members for a radio appeal to the miners, or some other action aimed at getting coal production.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) suggested a fireside chat and there were indications this was getting serious consideration at the White House.

Senator-Elect Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) renewed an earlier proposal that the draft law be used.

"Now that the court has acted I believe the President should use his powers to immediately draft John L. Lewis into the armed services," McCarthy, a World War II officer, said in an interview. "Lewis should be directed to order his miners to mine coal. If he does not do that he should be court martialed."

Mine Workers Say Fines Will Not Get Any Coal Moved

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5—Bitterly indignant AFL - United Mine Workers today indicated the government-levied $3,500,000 fine would do little toward ending their 15-day-old strike that has already idled another 172,000 persons and threatens the nation with complete economic paralysis.

"Let the government attorneys dig the damn coal," cried Bill Jones of the Gibson Mine at Bentleyville, Pa., "we won't go back until Lewis tells us to, fine or no fine."

Four Washington county locals in western Pennsylvania reacted to the penalty by sending blank checks to UMW headquarters in Washington with succinct instructions to "fill out the amount necessary to pay the fines."

Union leaders across the nation fiercely denounced the fines. Dave Fowler, president of the UMW Oklahoma-Arkansas district, termed the penalties an attempt to destroy the UMW and said it "invites the thug system and yellow-dog contracts again to be placed in the mining camps of the country."

In addition to the $1 and $2 a day fines now being levied on many of the miners under terms of the government contract Lewis declared void, more economic pressure was bearing down on them in some mine communities. Manager R. A. Raff of the Cronser Coal and Coke Company store at Elkhorn, W. Va. said credit was stopped to more than 30 miners yesterday. Other company stores

HERBERT APPOINTS NEW WELFARE HEAD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5 — Charles L. Sherwood was appointed welfare director in Gov.-Elect Thomas J. Herbert's cabinet today returning to a post he held under former Gov. John W. Bricker for four years.

Sherwood, chairman of the Ohio pardon and parole commission since 1945, will succeed Frazier Reams of Toledo in the $6,500 post. His is the second appointment announced by Herbert, who named Dale Dunifon of Columbus secretary of commerce Monday.

Sherwood has been associated with state welfare activities since 1929, when former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper named him assistant director of the department, in charge of state prisons and mental institutions.

He was born in Fremont Nov. 11, 1883, but has lived here since joining the state service.

The new director is a member of various private welfare organizations such as the American Prison association, of which he is a director and former vice president, and the Central States Probation and Parole association. He is chairman of the penal study committee of the Ohio post-war planning commission.

Sherwood will contend with such problems as overcrowding in the state mental hospitals, requests for higher pay for state institution employes, a $22,000,000 building program slowed by rising construction costs, lack of materials and labor, and the question of where to build a proposed $5,000,000 penitentiary.

Green Proposes Parley Between Lewis, Owners

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 — AFL President William Green today proposed the calling of a conference of bituminous coal operators and John L. Lewis in an effort to find a solution to the coal strike.

Leroy Retterer, Marion county sheriff, was elected treasurer of the Buckeye Sheriff's Association at a meeting in Columbus yesterday. Mr. Retterer is serving his first term as sheriff of Marion county.

Charles B. Salke of Hamilton was elected president of the association; William McElroy of Newark, vice president; and Elmer E. Hatfield of Gallipolis, vice president. New trustees included: Fred Bartels of Napoleon; Robert Smith of Akron, Howard C. Botts of Wilmington, George Bateman of Athens, C. L. Barricklow of St. Clairsville, George E. Hayes of Lisbon, E. E. Mills of Wooster, and Charles H. Radcliff of Circleville.

Head of CPA Resigns Post

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—John D. Small, civilian production administrator, has resigned.

The White House said today that President Truman had accepted Small's resignation, effective at the close of business tomorrow, Dec. 6.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen Small has been trying to resign for some time.

Since remaining CPA functions, along with those of OPA and other emergency agencies are to be transferred to an overall liquidation agency, Ross said the President encurred in Small's request to return to private industry.

The Small resignation follows by a day that of Wilson Wyatt as housing administrator. There had been differences between the two

OHIO JOBLESS PAY DENIED UMW MINERS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5—The state bureau of unemployment compensation today denied jobless benefits to the first Ohio miner to claim them in the current coal strike.

A bureau announcement said the first claim was filed at Athens but did not name the applicant.

The denial was based on a statute, the bureau said, which disqualifies Ohioans from benefits for duration of any period of employment resulting from "a labor dispute (other than lockout) at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which he was employed."

The decision follows a recent claim by a United Mine Workers official in West Virginia that miners in all states were entitled to unemployment benefits because he said U. S. District Judge Alan Goldsborough "has held this is not a labor dispute."

His assertion referred to a ruling in the Washington contempt case against UMW President John L. Lewis.

Harmony Sounded In UN Disarmament Talk

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 5—United Nations efforts to set up world-wide arms limitation machinery started off on a note of harmony today when a sub-committee agreed unanimously to accept the United States plan as a basis for discussion.

The new spirit of conciliation, initiated yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's agreement that any inspection and control agencies to enforce an arms reduction program must be free of the veto, was evident from the opening of the new 30-nation disarming sub-committee's first session.

Hamilton Passes First Night Of Blackout with Little Harm

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, O., Dec. 5—This city of 60,000 emerged from the first night of the worst power blackout in its history with no apparent ill effects.

Faced with a coal supply that would provide less than eight days operation for the municipal electric plant, council yesterday discontinued all streetlighting for an indefinite period and at the same time ordered a 70 per cent cut in consumption of municipal power by industry and business.

It is the first city in the nation so affected by the coal strike.

A company of Ohio State guards, mobilized after city officials appealed to Gov. Lausche, joined city police in patrolling darkened streets but crime apparently was at a minimum.

Desk Sgt. Al Osborn reported from police headquarters that he had received fewer complaint calls than on a normal night.

Traffic was slowed to a snail's pace and some pedestrians used flashlights in the downtown area.

Despite the 70 per cent cut in usage of municipal power, a survey yesterday showed fewer than 1,000 of approximately 15,000 workers on industrial payrolls here had been laid off. Two small plants were shut down completely, idling several hundred, but three of the city's largest industries were not affected immediately.

The Champion Paper and Fibre Co., with several thousand on its payroll, manufactures its own paper and company officials said it had a substantial supply of coal. The Ford Motor Co. plant, with more than 1,000 workers, utilizes hydro-electric turbines at the Great Miami river, and the Rauch Mastrola division of the Rudio Electric Corp., where more than 1,500 persons work, buys electricity from the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co.

Residential lighting was not affected by the cut in power, since commercial and public establishments and cafes were required operated as usual, some using candles, gasoline and coal oil lights to augment restricted lighting.

LARGE CROWDS SEE NEW GALLAHER STORE

Company officials said their regular sales force of 67 and an additional 31 people from the Dayton office of the company were collaborating to handle the crowd.

G. W. Gallaher, president of the company, was present for the opening, with several other company executives and officials from firms whose products will be used or sold in the new store.

A broadcast will be made from the store this afternoon. The store will be open until 10 p. m.

BLACK MARKET PAYS IN JAPAN

Operators Make as High as $13 an Hour, Tokyo Reports.

By International News Service

TOKYO—Black Market operations in Japan have spread from street stalls to overcrowded train aisles with the advent of thousands of food speculators who sell their wares to Japanese willing to buy food wherever and whenever they can get it.

Black marketeers ride Japanese trains equipped with rolls of hundred yen notes, rubber boots and knapsacks bristling with illegal vegetables.

Buy Food

The operators travel out to the countryside buying food in low price farm districts. They sell it for about four times their investment.

Farmers themselves have joined the traveling speculators selling their own produce on trains or in the large cities.

Even women and children operate in this black market free-for-all. One group of female speculators said they were evacuees from Tokyo and added they could continue to make their living in the black market business until their husbands are repatriated from abroad.

Generally Jammed

Tokyo's railroad stations are generally jammed with people carrying full knapsacks of black market food. At one local station in the heart of a farming district near the city, a group of 200 to 300, each with a full sack of vegetables, rushed into the city bound train, packing it four times over its capacity.

The overcrowded rail system, crowded above the danger point, averages two serious accidents a day.

One speculator said he worked in Tokyo at a wage of 500 yen a month. He makes 200 yen ($13) in less than an hour as a black market operator.

Meanwhile Japanese commuters seem to have picked up the lucrative habit. Workers, and sometimes school kids, make up for the inconvenience of commuting by more than doubling their salaries with occasional sacks of country food for resale in the hungry city.

Not Unusual Load

A speculator carrying 9 gallons of rice, not an unusual load for travellers, can make 1,000 yen ($68 at the exchange rate) with his carfare paid out of a one day excursion into the country.

The operators usually specialize. Some like to handle fish, others rice or cucumbers. Generally the speculators make contacts in the provinces to handle whole portions of a farmers crop.

Japanese government officials, meanwhile, have given up attempts to kill the black market. They point with pride at the fact that due to the successful crops black market prices are going down.

Delaware Council Acts On Parking Meters

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Dec. 4—First step in installation of parking meters here was taken Monday night by the city council. With only one dissenting member, the council authorized advertising for bids for the meters.

The meters are expected to be installed by next spring. The vote climaxed a controversy extending over several years, with opposition to the meters being voiced principally by merchants.

Monday night's ordinance limits the number of meters to be installed to 300.

Coal in Competition

DR. ARTHUR H. COMPTON, who knows more about atomic fission than he knows about coal, made the most thoughtful comment anyone could have made on the coal strike Tuesday. At about the same time, Judge T. Alan Goldsborough found John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers guilty of contempt of court. Dr. Compton, lecturing to an audience of scientists at Sorbonne university in Paris, said atomic power would be a serious competitor for coal by 1955, unless political "difficulties" interfered. He might have added, if his listeners had been interested, that the incentive to overcome the time lag has been increased tremendously by the coal strike in the United States.

Two wartime pipelines used to move oil while coastal shipping was restricted now will move natural gas, to help ease the coal shortage. In every part of the country, the coal strike is hastening conversion to both gas and oil. The movement away from coal which has spurred development of water power and the wider use of oil and gas is being hugely accelerated by the latest demonstration that a handful of private citizens can make or break the fortunes of enterprises wholly dependent on coal. Exploitation of atomic energy is as inevitably a threat to coal as coal was a threat to wood when men learned how to release the energy in "black rocks." Coal is in competition with everything that can be used to produce heat and power. Everything that interferes with its use hurts coal and helps its competitors, a more important fact in the long run than what happens to any union executive or any union.

This Could Go On a Long Time

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT says he was the victim of inaccuracy in a magazine story about what he said at a dinner in Moscow.

Elliott Roosevelt says he was the victim of inaccuracy in a press association story about what he said about what he said at the dinner in Moscow.

Elliott Roosevelt in due time will say he was the victim of inaccuracy in a story about what he said about what he said about what he said—and this could go on for a long time.

It has occurred to a lot of newspapermen simultaneously that this thing is beginning to look like the same old press-agent buildup for something that Elliott Roosevelt is about to write—something that will give the good old public the good old lowdown on what the guy really did say—and if so, someone has just stolen another million dollars' worth of free advertising.

Rays of Sunshine

WHAT makes Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and other Russian negotiators show occasional flashes of apparent good will toward representatives of other governments is another of their government's closely-guarded secrets.

If the Kremlin keeps itself posted on the almost sensational effects of these intermittent rays of sunshine on American opinion, it must be impressed. So slight a gesture of cooperation as agreement with the principle of international inspection of atomic weapons, agreement on Trieste, or on free navigation of the Danube seems enough to convince millions of Americans that the diplomatic weather will be fair and warmer. Russian diplomacy has acquired such a reputation for consistent obstructionism, in other words, that even the slightest departure from normal is seized upon as evidence that the era of cooperative security is about to begin.

Its beginning, however, must wait on mutual good will among the major powers. That has been obvious since Dumbarton Oaks. There can be no cooperation among governments which approach every question in an attitude of mistrust. In the long run, there can be no cooperation among governments which fear one another—nor can there be any justifiable hope of peace. Russian rays of sunshine, however much they may be appreciated as signs that things may clear up, can have no long-range significance unless Russia abandons its interference with the security of other governments. In that event, things would clear up—in a hurry.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Unions Draw Deeper and Deeper Into the Law.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 — The musicians czar Petrillo got a federal judge to say he could force radio stations to hire useless, extra non-working employees called "standbys." The judge threw out the entire federal law, claiming it was unconstitutional because it singled out the musicians for regulation "as a class separate and apart," (news accounts said.)

More anger was thus generated in congress for more laws to bring unions under some kind of control. The reasoning of the decision was a triumph of ridiculousness (however bad or good was its law.) Why, certainly, the law singled out the musicians. It intended to. This is not due to act of congress but to Petrillo. He singled out his musicians "as a class separate and apart" for whom standbys must be employed by the companies at his direction. You have no standbys, sitting nearby chewing grass at your work and drawing equal pay for doing nothing. No one else does. Petrillo established that distinction for his musicians, congress simply regulated the distinction he exclusively made.

The decision could have been based upon no more ridiculous standpoint of reasoning if the judge had said the law against murder by garroting was unconstitutional because it singled out garroters "as a class separate and apart." Indeed they are separate and apart. They made themselves that way, and thus seem to have made themselves unconstitutional in this respect, rather than any congress which would pass a law to regulate them or bring them under control in the public interest.

Puts It Mildly

Author-representative Lea, who said the decision was like some other union decisions lately "based upon hypercritical and superficial reasoning," put the general attitude of congress mildly.

But the unions are getting deeper into the law, for ill or good.

The Labor party Socialist school philosopher Harold Laski simultaneously has lost a libel decision on the kings bench in a case which developed somewhat like the Oscar Wilde decision in one respect. You may remember all Wilde's troubles were due to his own suit for libel. He exposed himself unintentionally in that case which originated on his own initiative. Laski did about the same thing.

Laski said because he was quoted in some newspapers from a campaign speech last June as follows. (Newark Advertiser:) "As for violence, he (Prof. Laski) continued, if labor could not obtain what it needed by general consent 'we shall have to use violence even if it means revolution.'" A jury said he said it, or the paper did not misquote him and he must pay the heavy court costs of his action against the newspaper.

Now Laski claimed he did not advocate revolution by violence, did not say the quotation but apparently used the word 'revolution' in some way. What he seemed to think now about revolution by violence on the stand was that if the Conservative party did not consent to what the Labor party wanted there would be revolution started by his side, presumably by the Labor party or its members or advocates. Apparently he thought he was not advocating revolution in saying this, but rather predicting it.

Jury Agrees

The jury must have thought he predicted it rather favorably. At least he said nothing dire against it, thought it would start on his side and obviously thought everyone should give in to fear of it. The jury made no such philosophical distinctions.

The British newspapers bent backward to keep politics out of the trial and gauged the case on a philosophical plane. Laski they regarded as a nuisance to his own party as well as to them. They admitted no treason was involved. The question was simply whether he was misquoted. The testimony of bystanders varied. Some present did not even hear Laski say some things he admitted saying. Others did not hear this particular "revolution" phrase.

But after all that expenditure and effort, Laski only succeeded in proving he did say it (as far as the law and future quotations are concerned at any rate.) He succeeded only in dissipating any doubt which hitherto had lay in his favor because of his denial of the remark.

With the Lewis coal strike tried in district court, the Petrillo standby non-work decision, and the Laski verdict, the unions are thus drawing their whole cause deeper and deeper into law—or letting it be drawn there—for ill or good—not only their actual strikes and working agreements but their philosophy as well. With congress getting ready to pass new regulatory laws, their case may be swept completely into a legal realm.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

Faith, Hope And Baling Wire

The executive secretary of the National Auto Wreckers association complains that 40 per cent of the cars on the nation's highway are nothing but junk.

One gathers that the used parts business has suffered considerably now that, instead of selling their wreck, people are driving them.

Of course, you can't blame a citizen for holding on to what he's got when the "late models" the used car boys advertise include everything since the vintage of '26.

People used to think a hundred thousand miles was about as far as an automobile would run. Now they go that far without changing the oil.

Cars are driven until, like the Deacon's one-horse shay, they just disintegrate. When a citizen finally gives up on a car these days, it's hardly a meal for a goat.

It's not that there are no used parts anymore....it's just that the original owners are still using them.

Europe Views U. S. Election

By RAYMOND MOLEY

PROFESSOR EUGENE VARGA, whose position in the Soviet government corresponds with that of a chief economist in an American corporation, had something to say recently about the meaning of the American election of last month. He said the election of a Republican majority in congress was a great victory for capitalism and rugged individualism. Thus, the inference is drawn that this means a greater gulf between Russia and ourselves.

As is usual in such remote comment, this European theorist is dead wrong. The election did not mean a great ideological upset, nor does it mean that international relations are in any sense set back. European social philosophers, especially those, like Varga, who are bred in the bones of Marx, love to draw sweeping generalization of a worldwide character. To them, something or other of a political nature is always sweeping the world. They conceive of political changes as communicable diseases, which blow across the borders of nations and infect whole continents with the same virus. Americans sometimes fall victims to the same belief. Hence, the talk we hear of world revolution sweeping nearer and nearer our shores.

Contrary To History.

This belief not only violates the common sense of present facts, but it is completely disproved by history.

Social changes in a country rise mainly from immediate conditions in that country, except in closely crowded areas where several countries are economically interdependent. But such changes do not spread widely. They do not leap oceans.

At the moment, it is being said over and over that Europe is rushing into socialism or into communism. The proof offered is the number of instances in various countries in which industries and businesses are being nationalized. But a good look at each instance shows that some special condition has prompted each change. In England, for example, the coal industry is soon to be nationalized. This has been occasioned, not by the conquest of socialist ideology, but because coal is essential to life, and the private owners have hopelessly failed to improve the efficiency of their industry. The change, as it appears to rational Englishmen, is not because of socialist ideology, but because, he believes, almost any control of coal would produce better results.

There's Lewis, of Course.

Can any American believe that the socialization of Britain's coal industry will be an influence toward such a change over here? Certainly not. One reason is that the most potent individual in our coal industry, John L. Lewis, would stoutly resist it. Lewis, like other labor leaders, wants capitalistic-ownership. Our labor leaders are not interested in assuming responsibility for profits. Their concern is to wring for their workers the largest possible share of profits which present management can produce.

Professor Varga need not express surprise because congressmen pledged to capitalistic enterprise have been elected. Ninety per cent of Americans, including labor, believe in private enterprise. Even extreme New Dealers pledge themselves, over and over, to private ownership of industry. Labor leaders would lose their jobs under nationalization. The Republican victory in November was due to many causes, one of which was a belief that better returns for investors, workers and managers would come from a change in party control. The American voter is practical, not ideological.

The historical fact is that we have never moved in harmony with European trends. From 1815 to 1848 Europe turned from the ideas of the French Revolution back to the legitimist kings, emperors and princes. America, in that period, moved toward more democracy. This country is not only capable of making its own political decisions, but it can be trusted to understand them without help from Europe.

Firmness of purpose is one of the most necessary sinews of character, and one of the best instruments of success.—Chesterfield.

U. S. Moves Against Franco

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT IS quite true that the Franco regime will not disappear just because the United Nations adopt the resolution offered by this government. But it is no less true that the Franco regime will not disappear if we all break off diplomatic relations with Spain.

The difference between the two policies is not that one is merely verbal and the other substantial and effective. Each of the proposals is only a first step. It is only when we visualize the next steps that the real difference can be understood.

If our first step is to break diplomatic relations, then our second step—if Franco remains—would have to be a rupture of economic relations—a refusal to trade with Spaniards. If this did not work, the next step would have to be a blockade. The next step after that would have to be the creation of a Spanish government supported by troops of the United Nations.

Now it would be a great mistake to take the first step on this path unless we are all united and prepared to take all the others. If we were united and prepared to take all of them, then later perhaps—though even that is not certain—Franco would be forced out at some point in the series of steps.

War Threats Fail

But if we are not united and prepared to take the whole series of steps, then to take the first one or the second, and no more, would almost certainly be as ineffective as were the actions of the League of Nations against Japan and against Mussolini.

Experience has demonstrated again and again that measures "short of war" do not work unless those who employ them are ready and willing to go to war. Since we do not mean to go to war with Spain, let us not take any of the steps which are significant only if they could lead to war. Let us not start something we do not mean to finish.

The proposal of the United States is a first step on a quite different path. It is an offer of assistance to the Spanish people in the exceedingly difficult and dangerous task, which they alone can perform, of removing a usurper and restoring legitimate government.

The next step, which may already be prepared, would be a pact of union among the leading parties in Spain—of all the parties except the die-hards of the extreme Right who are involved with Franco and the irreconcilables of the extreme Left.

The union of the parties inside Spain would have to rest on the principle of restoring legitimate government, excluding reprisals, granting amnesty and protecting the individual rights and the established interests which were lawful in Spain before Franco usurped power with the help of Hitler and Mussolini.

Army's Help Needed

With such an agreement inside Spain, and a corresponding agreement among Spaniards in exile, the next step would almost certainly have to be an agreement with the Spanish army to remove Franco and to protect the provisional government.

For this, mediation may be required. But the mediator must be acceptable to the Spanish people. The United Nations as a whole cannot mediate between the legitimist Spanish parties and the Spanish Army.

No one of the great powers—not Britain, not France, not the United States, not the Soviet Union—is qualified to mediate. All will be suspect because all are now engaged in a world-wide conflict of power.

The acceptable mediators—if any—must be governments which cannot be accused of using mediation to intervene for the purpose of controlling the destinies of Spain.

The obvious mediators would appear to be the Latin-American republics—individually or jointly. They cannot be suspected of having designs upon the independence of Spain. They speak not only the language of the Spanish people but the language of Spanish civilization.

Their friendliness cannot be doubted. They are not aliens of a different culture, and the honor and dignity of all things Spanish is inseverable from their own honor and dignity.

State Receipts Up

The nationwide total of $5,950,000,000 in state tax collections for the fiscal year 1946 scored an all-time high and continued the uninterrupted upward trend begun in 1937, the Council of State Governments has reported.

Total collections in the 12 months preceding July 1946 represent a 6.2 percent increase over receipts for fiscal 1945 according to calculations based on U. S. Bureau of Census figures. This year's total also marks a 34.7 percent gain over 1941 collections, and exceeds 1937 collections by 77.2 percent. Payroll, general sales, motor fuel, and income taxes account for 61.6 percent of all 1946 state tax revenues. Payroll taxes alone accounted for 17.4 percent of state tax receipts.

Motor fuel tax receipts, following termination of gasoline and tire rationing, surged upward to second place in nationwide state tax collections for 1946. The 1946 total amounts to 15.1 percent of the total state tax revenues for the year.

Riding the crest of holiday consumer spending following V-J Day, general sales tax receipts for 1946 accounted for 15.1 percent of all state tax collections. For the first time since 1944, however, sales tax revenues were virtually no greater than receipts from motor fuel taxes.

Greatest gain in a single tax category during the last five years was in revenues from individual and corporate income taxes, which rose from 523 million dollars in 1942 to 831 million in fiscal 1946. This year's receipts represent a 14.1 percent slice of the total state tax dollar.

There still are 92,500 one-teacher schools in rural area of the United States.

Rubber Pool

Comes the dawn—the cold, gray one whe there's snow on the ground and it's time to sta the roundup of the overshoes.

Junior has outgrown his, which are no available for No. 2, whose outgrown ones ha been bequeathed to No. 3, whose outgrown on have been passed along—and so on.

However, due to circumstances beyond every body's control, the ones that No. 2 outgrew a not available to No. 3, because while No. 2 wa still wearing them he collided with a broke bottle and cut a gash in the one for the left fo which was left at the repair shop and has no been brought home.

Furthermore, the outgrown ones passed alo by No. 3 have only a theoretical existence be cause one of them is missing and probably wa left in a movie last March.

At that time, the other one was accounted fo and in good repair, if that is any comfort, whi it isn't. Incidentally, one of mama's stadium boots is missing, but must be around somewhere and will turn up eventually.

As for Junior, the question is whether he gro grown into a pair of the relics which his father feels sure must be on the premises in great numbers..."I buy a pair of overshoes every year and what becomes of them?" Junior could keep them on his feet by stuffing paper in the toes, in case they were too big—and if they could be found.

All this is going to take only a minute, but at the end of a half-hour all that has been found is one right and one left overshoe of two pairs that would not have fitted anyone anyway.

No one can understand where all the others could have gone, and this sort of thing never would happen if all the surviving overshoes each spring were placed in a box provided for that purpose..."And why wasn't this done?"

It was. The box was this wide and that long. It stood on the bottom shelf, and there were at least four pairs of ordinary overshoes and half a dozen pairs of galoshes in it.

But one day the box was commandeered by the master of the house, remember?

The fact is that most of the overshoes wouldn't have lasted much longer anyway and if everybody will be sure to change his stockings as soon as they get damp there will be no damage done until it is convenient to lay in a new supply of overshoes.

Which is why there always is a run on the overshoe supply after the first snowstorm. Theoretically, there are enough overshoes in the country to equip every man, woman and child. Actually, the only overshoes that ever can be found are one right and one left one from a couple of pairs that would have been too large or too small anyway.

COMMUNISM AND FRANCE

French Reds Favor Russian Foreign Policy, Attack U. S.

This is the last of three stories on the possible effects of the trend toward Communism as evidenced by the recent elections.

By ROBERT C. WILSON

PARIS, Dec. 5 — A gradual alignment of France's foreign policy with that of Russia would result if the Communists take over the leadership of the Fourth French republic's new government, most impartial observers agree.

Whether or not — as most Frenchmen believe — the French Communist party is directly advised from Moscow, available evidence indicates that the Communists would work a change in France's relations with the east and west.

Maurice Thorez — party secretary-general and Communist candidate for the premiership — vigorously asserts that his party would follow an independent foreign policy.

Criticize "Atomic Diplomacy"

However, both he and his colleagues of the party, Jacques Duclos, have been frequent critics of Anglo-American foreign policy, and are authors of the phrase — "atomic diplomacy" — to describe it.

And the official party organ, "L'Humanite," almost daily finds fault with British and American policy but never lifts its voice in criticism of Russian policy.

The Communist party line has consistently been more anti-American than anti-British. The Communists were bitterly critical of the American loan to France, negotiated by the Socialists, charging that it would threaten France's economic independence.

Just after the American elections, "L'Humanite" announced that the Communists supported an independent foreign policy, but a few paragraphs later bitterly attacked "the Anglo-American international trusts" and described New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey as "the Fascist candidate" for the American presidency.

Assails Peace Conference

In other paragraphs it assailed the record of the Quai d'Orsay's career diplomats" in the Paris peace conference and the foreign ministers councils.

Not a word was said about Russia.

The Communists have not yet seen fit to announce whether they would take the foreign affairs portfolio if they succeed in forming a government, but certainly they would establish the policy no matter if the post were held by the M.R.P.'s Georges Bidault, Radical-Socialist Edouard Herriot, or a Communist.

The Communist reply to those who charge them with being pro-Russian down the line in foreign policy is to point to the conflict between their position and that of Moscow on Germany.

The Communists have supported first Gen. De Gaulle and then Georges Bidault in the French demand for internationalization of the Ruhr and economic absorption of the Saar into France's economic system, whereas the Russians apparently prefer less drastic measures for the Ruhr and have not yet acceded to the Saar request.

Thorez Tips Policy Shift

However, Thorez has recently emphasized that the main foreign policy problem at the moment is harmonization of the French and Russian positions on Germany, and taken obvious criticisms at what the party interprets as the American policy of resurrecting Germany at France's expense.

Thorez publicly has said that he feels France and Britain are closer to the Russian stand than to that of the United States, apparently demonstrating that the Communists feel a closer kinship to Socialistic Britain than capitalistic America.

It thus becomes apparent that the United States would find opposition great in the foreign ministers council, if it had to cope with a French-supported Russia at every turn, and would encounter similar difficulties in the United Nations.

What is more, a Communist France might be able to swing the rest of western Europe towards the east, and away from the west.

A recent government ruling on provisions of U-14 curtailing us of electricity has been interpreted as permitting lights on indoor Christmas trees, but no outdoor decorations are allowed under the regulations.

Toledo Plan for Labor Disputes Weighed by U.S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—Top administration authorities today were reported to have the "Toledo Plan" under consideration as a potential solution of the nation's labor-management puzzle.

Stabilization Director John R. Steelman studied the plan after receiving it Tuesday, it was said, and sent it to President Truman as a possible pattern for any legislation to be proposed to the 80th congress.

The Toledo plan was presented to Steelman by Vice Mayor Michael V. Disalle, who told reporters that his town prevented most strikes simply by referring disputes to a committee made up of men from all interested groups—labor, management and the public.

Schools Prefer Closing To Using Non-Union Coal

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5—Rather than buy coal dug by non-union miners, the schools in the Chauncey-Dover exempted village school district in Athens county have closed, Supt. W. G. Davis advised the state department of education today.

He wrote that the solid fuels administration seized a carload of coal shipped to the schools from a Chauncey mine, then advised the schools to buy coal from non-union mines.

"Our community," Davis' letter said, "is a miners' community, and nearly all are members of the U.M.W., and it would be very unwise to attempt to use non-union mined coal."

The schools closed yesterday after their supply of coal was exhausted.

BRITISH TROOPS KILLED

JERUSALEM, Dec. 5—A bomb explosion killed one to four British soldiers in Sarafand camp camp today after an unidentified truck penetrated that largest and most closely guarded military post in Palestine. Written Orders Needed, Dealers Here Warn Again

Charles Buente, president of the Marion retail coal dealers association, today again warned Marion residents, many of them already out of coal, they could receive no emergency coal without written certifications stating they have less than a 10-day coal supply on hand.

Many residents still are calling coal dealers and asking for coal, Mr. Buente said, and apparently are not aware of government orders which require written statements from consumers showing their supplies of coal will last them less than 10 days.

Mr. Buente pointed out that unless consumers turn in such certificates, coal dealers cannot order emergency coal for them, since dealers must certify their needs before getting coal through the solid fuels administration.

Parents To Fight Baby Eviction to High Court

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 5 — The parents of a 16-month-old baby, whose birth was adjudged by the Ohio supreme court a violation of their apartment lease, expressed determination today to carry their case to the U. S. supreme court if necessary.

Morris Morgenstern, attorney for the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Court, said he would first seek a hearing in Columbus, where four of the Ohio tribunal's seven members yesterday ruled against the Courts.

The attorney said if he was unable to secure another hearing before the Ohio supreme court, he would attempt to have it submitted to the U. S. supreme court.

The writ of execution, evicting the Courts, would be delayed if he succeeded in winning another hearing, the attorney said.

Jane Russell Loses New Tilt with Censors

MANILA, Dec. 5—Curvaceous Jane Russell lost another battle with the censors—10,000 miles from Broadway this time—when the Philippine board of motion picture review today prohibited the showing of her film "The Outlaw."

But the Manila censors, who understood that a lady may have to keep cool on a hot day, were not objecting to her liberal display of charms.

They said the picture shows Billy the Kid remaining alive contrary to fact, and violates the rule that crime can not pay—at least not in the movies.

Solon Thinks Gen. "Ike" Is Wasted in Washington

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) today described General Dwight Eisenhower as "priceless material" who shouldn't be hemmed in by his duties in Washington.

She suggested in a statement that Eisenhower's ability should be applied to his country's interests in international problems rather than to military problems, now that fighting has ceased.

"It is a waste of priceless material," Mrs. Bolton said, "to hem him in as chief of (army) staff in Washington."

Postal Changes

Also going into effect at 12:01 Friday will be new restrictions on postal shipments, limiting the weight of parcel post to five pounds in packages measuring not more than 18 inches in length and 60 inches in length and girth combined.

over priorities for building materials.

Ross said progress toward formation of the liquidations agency was proceeding rapidly.

In his letter of resignation, Small said he believed that the "industrial transition from war to peace is largely behind us."

"I do not mean to imply that all of our problems have been overcome," Small continued. "However, once the difficult labor-management problems confronting the country are solved—and I am confident that they will be solved—still higher levels of production will pave the way to an even higher standard of living for the people."

Wilson Wyatt Bows Out as Housing Head

By The Associated Press

Its announcement ment the President announcement meant the President had ruled against Wyatt's contention that the veterans housing program must be pressed on an "all-out emergency basis."

Brazilians Muzzle German Village Growing in Midst

By The United Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil—A picturesque replica of a Bavarian village, founded over a century ago by German immigrants at Santa Catarina, on the River Itajahy, is still held under rigid wartime restrictions.

The majority of its 50,000 inhabitants—Germans, or of German extraction—who still preserve the customs, language and culture of their fatherland, are not permitted to speak German in public.

The town, named Hermann Blumenau after its founder, was used to advantage by Nazi propagandists to exemplify the culture and progress of minority German groups in South America. Only after Brazil entered the war did the government have the power to "denazify" the prosperous little village.

The government closed the consulate and the German schools, and strictly forbade the use of German in public—spoken, incidentally, by many of doubtful Aryan origin, judging by the color of their skin.

Restrictions Retained

The residents of Blumenau breathed a sigh of relief when news of Germany's capitulation was received. They thought they had one compensation: Blumenau could become German once more; they would be able to meet in their beer gardens again, sing their old songs, and speak German wherever they pleased.

But they were headed for a disappointment. Lt. Col. Irapuan Xavier Leal, on orders from the national police, has maintained the wartime restrictions with the announced intention of nationalizing Blumenau once and for all.

Leal said it is time the inhabitants of Blumenau obey the customs and laws of Brazil.

To press enforcement of his edict, Leal has placed "observers" at public places, such as recreation societies, cinemas, cafes and hotels, warning that anyone found speaking German will be "punished energetically."

This system of enforcement has been objected to by some Brazilian elements of the village, but Leal has ignored them, announcing he will continue his campaign until Blumenau becomes completely Brazilian.

Some U. S. Cities Hike Budgets 100 Per Cent

By The United Press

CHICAGO — American cities have boosted budgets as much as 100 per cent over 1941, the International City Managers' Association reports.

Municipal pay rates, need for expanded service in new urban areas, and increased equipment and supply costs are given as the chief reasons. Cost of repairs postponed during the war is another factor.

Dallas, Tex., will spend more than twice its 1941 outlay in the 1946-47 fiscal year. Much of the increase is for services to newly annexed areas. Minneapolis officials say the city needs an added $10,000,000 yearly for the next five years to catch up with its growth.

The cost of operating school buses and replacing worn-out vehicles represents 4½ per cent of the American national bill for education.

Lost and Found Items Piling Up in Germany

By The Associated Press

BREMERHAVEN, GERMANY—The Lost and Found department of this American entry port into Germany has a piggy bank, a picture of General MacArthur and a barrel of soap for whom it would like to find the owners.

The amount of unidentified household goods, shipped to Germany by American dependents, has grown so rapidly that a circular has been distributed with a description of the goods in hopes of finding the owners.

The list, which gives a clue to what dependents expect to find or not find in Germany, included: clothes pins, wash basin, a Sam Brown belt with munition carrier, light bulbs, a broom, a baby crib, a folding baby's bath, baby food, swing frames, a pale green silk kbed cover, coffee maker and assorted pans, a suntan shirt, a clothes hamper, a maple chair, a folding bench grinder and two triangles.

And finally, a truck without identification and addressed to "Eldorado."

Showing methods of smuggling precious stones or other articles into a country are prohibited in movies by the Johnston (Hays) office.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Refrigerator Stained

Q. The outside of my porcelain refrigerator is stained by lemon juice, which I used in order to remove another stain. The result is a mess. Is there any way to take off the stain?

A. If washing with soap and water or a little scratchless scouring powder does not remove the stain, evidently the porcelain finish is not acid-proof and the stain is permanent. There is nothing made which will restore the dulled spot. A refrigerator service man may be able to put a lacquer finish over the entire box.

Waterproofing Cellar

Q. I have a four-foot cavity in my basement. I want to convert this into a waterproof cellar. What kind of cement must I use, and how thick should I make the walls to keep the water from seeping through?

A. Your particular problem calls for the services of an experienced mason contractor who has done concrete and basement work. Evidently you are not familiar with this kind of work and I would not advise attempting it. If, however, you wish to take a chance get a copy of the booklet on "Basements and Foundations" from the Portland Cement association. 33 West Grand avenue, Chicago, Ill. Read it thoroughly before doing the work.

Lining for Chimney

Q. We purchased a home with a converted gas furnace. On inspection I find that the chimney, however, is the same as when the furnace was coal-fired. I understand that with gas heat the chimney should be lined with tile or enameled pipe.

A. There is a firm that makes a porcelain enameled sheet metal pipe which comes in sections and is lowered down an existing chimney. For the name and address of the manufacturer get in touch with the Architects Samples Exhibit, 101 Park avenue, New York 17. (Please do not ask me for the name.)

Removing Calcimine

Q. Can you paint over calcimine without first washing off the calcimine?

A. Old-fashined calcimine is usually washed off before repainting, although there are a few new types of paint that may be applied over calcimine. (Please do not write to me for the names. Ask your paint dealer about them.)

Analyst Sees Possibility Russ Make Right Turn

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's newest concession—that the veto shall not apply in the operation of any arms control machinery which the UN may set up—led to immediate speculation at Lake Success as to whether Moscow foreign policy might be doing a "right turn."

Most delegates seemed jubilant after Mr. Molotov's statement. Some were looking for a suspected gimmick, but hadn't found it. Coming as it did on the heels of other concessions to the western viewpoint—on Trieste, the Danube, the principal of arms inspection, speeded-up demobilization among occupation forces in Germany—it began to look like Russia might be going to give the peace wagon a real push.

May Get Respite

Observers were asking whether the time had arrived when Moscow, finding the troubled waters of the immediate postwar period about fished out, was preparing to give the world a respite from excursions and alarums.

The answer apparently lies in what comes next.

Russia and the other great powers still retain the veto power in the security council under which atomic and other armaments control must be organized. If any of them use it to prevent establishment of foolproof safeguards, there will be no real progress toward disarmament.

The meaning of the recent concessions in connection with Russia's over-all policy also remains to be seen. Observers are curious over any connection between Molotov's recent moves and the statement by Stalin, just before the assembly convened; that these problems, such as arms inspection, could be worked out. For a time it seemed that Molotov was pursuing his own course without being too much influenced by what Stalin had said. Now, suddenly, he comes around.

Stalin's policy has always been to build up Russia first, so that she will be truly prepared for her world role. Molotov has been a little more inclined to press for expansion simultaneously with the build-up at home.

Who's "Misunderstanding?"

Now Molotov refers to worry over Russia's stand for the veto right in connection with disarmament controls as an obvious "misunderstanding." Misunderstanding by the west of what all the speeches actually meant? Or misunderstanding by Molotov as to how long Stalin wanted him to hold out?

Reaction today seems to be divided sharply. On the one side are some who suspect that any Russian concessions have an ulterior motive: that, if she is actually dropping her role as a surgeon carving out nice fees for herself among her neighbors, she is only doing so to anesthetize the world for a greater operation yet to come.

Others feel that Russia merely had been holding back through doubt of the sincerity of the other powers; that she felt she must establish, first of all, her own area of security; that she is now more convinced of American altruism, and that she is really going to work on the peace which she needs for reconstruction of her war-wrecked country.

One man who has been in close touch with the whole business seemed to represent the mean. He said:

"I guess you can't take any of this stuff at face value too quickly. On the other hand, if a fellow keeps on giving the appearance of trying to do right, you can't keep on questioning his motives forever."

Everybody says:

"It Pays To Trade at Lennon's"

That slogan has met the eyes of the good folks of Central Ohio these past 25 years. It is more than a slogan—it is our profession of business ethics.

Trying our level best to live up to this ambitious creed means more than just aiming to give our patrons the best at the lowest prices. It means special service far beyond what you look for in a furniture store—friendly service with a cheery smile.

That slogan is the inspiration that urges us to ever greater efforts for creating Happier Homes.

Living up to that slogan permits us to boast that our employees are the happiest family in Marion—the highest paid men in their line of work.

When our truck driver enters your home, he's welcome because he's happy and proud of his work. He knows that he is the highest paid driver in the city. He is cheerful because he knows that he, as well as every member of his family is protected under our Hospital Insurance service that costs him not one penny.

He knows too, that Lennon's pays the full premium on a $1,000.00 Life Insurance policy that is payable to his wife in the event of his death.

This man and every Lennon employee knows that he will get a generous share in the profits of the store. He is working for himself.

That is why, even during the war years, you never received a curt reply at Lennon's. If we did not have the things you wanted, we tried to help you locate them. When you called at Lennon's we tried to make you our friend. If we sell you anything we know you will be our friend.

LaRue and Morral Couple Married

Special to The Star

LA RUE, Dec. 4 — Miss Betty Lou Parker, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Parker of LaRue and the late George W. Parker, became the bride of Richard E. Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greene of Morral, Sunday, Nov. 17. The double ring ceremony was read at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the LaRue Methodist church before the altar decorated with two large baskets of white chrysanthemums and lighted with candles in two seven-branch candelabra. Rev. Clyde Hutchison, pastor, officiated. Pews for the immediate families and close friends were marked with white Satin ribbons.

A half hour of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Paul Lightfoot as organist and Rev. Lowell Parish, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her 92-year-old grandfather, J. L. McGuire of LaRue, wore a gown of white marquisette with a full length skirt which extended into a long circular train. Trimmed with self-covered buttons, the fitted bodice had a sweetheart neck line trimmed with lace and the long fitted sleeves ended in points over the hands. Her double bridal veil was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and extended over her finger tips. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a purple orchid and showered with white and lavender streamers. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Jack Chambers of New Bloomington and maid of honor was Miss Marie Parker of Aqa, sisters of the bride. Both wore gowns fashioned alike, with fitted bodice accented with a sweetheart neck line, short sleeves and a full skirt. Miss Parker was in powder blue and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations edged with maline. Mrs. Chambers was in buttercup yellow and carried a bouquet of blue carnations edged with maline. Each wore a matching ruffled halo veil trimmed with flowers.

David White of Columbus served as best man. Ushers were Doran Baker of Delaware, cousin of the groom and T. L. Parker of LaRue, brother of the bride. Lighting the candles were Miss Jean Freshour of Marion and Miss Mary Jane Daniels of LaRue.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Parker chose a steel gray dress with which she combined black and white accessories. Mrs. Greene wore a powder blue and black dress with black accessories. Each wore a shoulder corsage of white gardenias.

A reception for 60 guests at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony. The rooms were decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums. The bride's table, lighted with candles, was centered with a large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Small vases of flowers also decorated the table. Presiding in the dining room were Miss Mildred Greene, sister of the groom, Miss Jean Freshour and Miss Mary Jane Daniels, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Freshour and Mrs. Mac Weist.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Greene was wearing a powder blue suit with which she combined black and white accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was her bridal orchid. Upon their return the couple will live on a farm near Morral.

Mrs. Greene, a graduate of LaRue High school with the class of 1946, was employed in the Ward-Stilson Co., Marion. Mr. Greene was graduated from the Morral High school in 1943 and is engaged in farming.

Boyle Sees War Crimes Courts As Ineffective

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—Will German courts carry out their responsibility to de[illegible] American zone in Germany?

[illegible] and human nature re[illegible]ably not."

[illegible] convinced during my [illegible] in Germany that Ger[illegible] are reluctant to take [illegible] of Nazis. On the other hand, [illegible] military government is reluctant to [illegible] the Germans and [illegible] do the job.

Hal Boyle

Here's the present status of the roused down postwar anti-Nazi campaign:

Last spring the American military government turned over to the German provisional government the task of trying and sentencing Nazi suspects.

Last month Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy U. S. military governor, openly accused the German courts of "whitewashing" Nazi defendants on a large scale. He gave them 90 days to improve. He threatened that "if the German people are unwilling to do the job, the military government can and will do it."

Takes Look at Record

Well, let's see what the Germans did to punish their guilty after the last war. In 1919 German representatives solemnly signed an agreement to turn over 900 of their war criminals to the victorious allies.

But in 1920, after a storm of German protest, the victors agreed to permit the German supreme court at Leipzig to try the 900.

Of these suspects this high court subsequently refused to try 888. Of the dozen tried, only six were condemned. And of these six, said Emil Ludwig in 1943 in his book, "How To Treat the Germans," three escaped prison within a few days and the last three "were confined to prison for some weeks.

"Would Repeat"

"That was what the world would witness tomorrow if it let the Nazi leaders be sentenced by their German countrymen."

The Ludwig prediction is coming true now. The German courts cannot "whitewash" defendants on so large a scale as they did after the First World War, because this time they are under the direct mandate of a foreign military government in their own country. But they make every concession they can to their fellow nationals.

Before criticizing the German judges themselves too strongly, consider their human predicament.

There are more than 16,500,000 Germans in the American zone. Some 104,000 have been accused under the denazification laws, another 350,000 will be charged and the status of 5,000,000 more is still in doubt. These are official American military government figures as of a month ago.

Germans' Status Uncertain

That means one out of every three Germans in the American zone still doesn't know 18 months after the war whether he will have to go before a German court. This court can acquit him completely, turn him loose with a stigma that will permit him to work only at common labor, or convict him and send him to prison.

Assume that the judges are all ardent anti-Nazis—and they all certainly aren't—but in ny case they are all Germans. They know that every time they sentence a fellow German as a Nazi it wins them the hatred of the man, his family, his friends. The judges know this hatred will build up and cost them their political future when the Americans pull out—if they do pull out.

Judges Caught In Betwen

Caught between two pressures—their German countrymen below them and the American military government above them — the judges temporize, compromise, try the placate both sides.

They attempt to deal first with minor suspects and let them off as lightly as possible. They delay as long as possible the serious cases against more prominent Nazis with influential friends. They try to grade down the severity of the charges, thus reducing the possible penalty.

Lt. Gen. Clay knows, of course, such practices are common. He doesn't want the American military government to have to take over the trying of Nazis because of the immense task of setting up Allied courts and providing the prosecution and judicial staffs to man them. The Germans know that, too.

Many observers in Germany believe, however, that if the country is to have a real housecleaning of Nazi remnants the Allies will have to do it themselves, perhaps on the pattern set at Nuernberg. At present we are netting many minnows, while some bigger fish are swimming away.

JOBS FOUND FOR 34 HANDICAPPED HERE

Employment Service Manager Reports on Drive.

As a result of the Marion community's efforts, 34 physically limited workers have secured employment since National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week Oct. 6, Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Marion office of the bureau of unemployment compensation-Ohio state employment service, stated today.

"Commendation is due the community for the splendid spirit of cooperation and enthusiasm which it showed in assisting physically limited workers in securing employment er in increasing their capacities for employment as a result of efforts expended during the National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week program," Mr. Scherff declared.

"In Marion NEPH Week was not a seven day observance, but a program which will continue indefinitely. It is certain that the results of the combined efforts of the community will continue to show themselves in the months to come," Mr. Scherff further stated.

"Employers not only placed handicapped workers in jobs for which they were qualified at the time those jobs were available but are continuing to go a step farther by creating jobs through in-plant transfers. This sometimes is a slow process due to seniority regulations," he explained.

Item in Paper Recalls 1877 Leopard Scare

An item in a column noting the "news of yesterday" in a Columbus newspaper of Dec. 3 brought nostalgic memories to Pearl H. Sells of 148 South Vine street. The news item, under the date of 1877, related that a 130-pound leopard which had escaped from a menagerie created terror in Union and Marion counties until it was finally treed and captured near New Bloomington.

The leopard was later purchased by Mr. Sells' grandfather, Peter Sells Sr., and was kept on exhibition in his place of business in Richwood for many years. Upon his death it became the property of Mr. Sells' father, Peter C. Sells of Prospect, sheriff of Marion county at one time. Mr. Sells recalls hearing how the children were not allowed to stray far from home and their elders also kept a wary eye out for the leopard which measured nine feet from nose to tail.

BUCKEYE LAKE FLOOD LIKELY

Rider Sees Newark Courthouse Deluged Unless Wall Is Repaired.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4 — Weakening of the north wall of man-made Buckeye state lake in Licking county has brought the possibility of a flood, state conservation commissioner H. A. (Buck) Rider disclosed today.

"Another year or two without work on that north wall," Rider said, "and it might break."

He estimated it would cost about $500,000 to repair the wall.

"The sundry claims in event of a break in the wall would run to millions of dollars," Rider said in discussing the $7,740,000 budget which the state division of conservation and natural resource will present to the legislature next month.

"The bed of Buckeye lake is seven feet above the steps of the courthouse at Newark and there are 2,000 acres of water behind it."

Rider pointed out that $1,000,000 of the projected budget, which for the first time asks money from the state's general fund for conservation purposes, would go for repair work to the chain of canal reservoir lakes in mid-Ohio, including Buckeye.

Other canal reservoir lakes also are badly in need of repairs, but none is in as bad a shape as the Licking county recreation spot, according to Rider.

Much of the shore of Indian lake in Logan county needs riprap work, Rider declared, emphasizing that "millions of tons" of rock would be needed to guard the shore from current erosion.

"At one point you will find 200 to 250 trees lying in the water close to the shoreline," Rider said. "That means that erosion has cut behind these trees, destroying valuable land.

"Not only will erosion destroy valuable land, but it will fill the lake with silt."

Dredging and rip-rap work at Indian lake, he estimated, would cost about $200,000.

Work of similar nature at Lake Loramie in Shelby county would cost $50,000 to $60,000, while repair at Grand Lake, in Mercer and Auglaize counties and the Portage lakes near Akron would use up the remainder of the $1,000,000 sought, Rider said.

The south part of Newark and adjacent farmland would be in the path of the Buckeye lake flood waters, if a break occurred.

Bethlehem Grange Elects New Treasurer

A short business session during which Mrs. Oscar Kaelber was elected lecturer to succeed Robert Rice who resigned, was followed by a program at a recent meeting of Bethlehem grange. Miss Hazel Clunk was in charge of a program which opened with novelty songs by the audience and a reading by Mrs. Gail Smith.

A story telling skit was presented by Walter Bender and Mrs. Lowell Berringer and Mrs. Virgil Payne gave readings.

Miss Clunk was the narrator for a Thanksgiving pageant and music was by a quartet composed of Oscar and Woodrow Kaelber, Earl Augenstein and Walter Bender, with Miss Louise Bender as accompanist. Taking the part of Indians were Jean and Jane Fogle, Janet Ulmer and Brent Berringer, pilgrims were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fogle, Lowell Berringer portrayed the hunter and Barbara Kaelber and Margaret Howald the harvesters. The first Thanksgiving was portrayed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howald, Richard Kaelber and Jean Fogle. A white elephant exchange was held and in contests the awards were won by Mrs. W. R. Bogart and Mrs. R. J. Hecker.

Mrs. W. L. Bogart will be chairman of the program committee for the next meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Still More PROOF that Albers Leads... in Holding Down Food Prices!

Albers customers today, more than ever, are getting the benefit of Albers low-price policy. Our retail prices are based on our low costs regardless of higher market prices. Our prices do not advance until our cost increases, because we realize that today savings are more important due to the higher prices of foods and other items.

Proof that Albers is not taking advantage of the extra profit on a rising market, is that Albers sold soap and soap powder at the low price for a week after the higher prices were announced.

Last week, and again today, Albers is selling Argo Red Salmon at 49c a can when the carload price at which we could sell our entire stock is 56c a can . . . . and we could also sell carloads of our canned tomatoes at higher prices than we are selling our customers today at retail.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. If a disabled veteran completed his on-the-job training and is unemployed can he draw unemployment compensation?

A. Yes. Under Law 346 (G.I. Bill), he may be entitled to readjustment allowance up to a maximum of 52 weeks providing he is able to, and available for, work at the time. Any prior periods used for such purpose would be deducted from his maximum eligibility.

Q. May the wife or child of a veteran be granted hospital or domiciliary care by Veterans Administration because of the relationship to the veteran?

A. No. Admission to a Veterans Administration hospital or home is based on the service of a person in the armed forces and may be granted only to the persons who served.

Q. What is the difference between compensation and pension?

A. Compensation is a term used to describe monetary benefits payable for service-connected death or disability under laws administered by Veterans Administration. The term "pension" is used to describe non service-connected monetary benefits.

Q. Does the Veterans Administration make home loans?

A. No. The Veterans Administration is not permitted to make home loans. It only guarantees the repayment of at least a part of a loan made by a lender to a veteran.

Q. Does the amount of money I make on the job affect the amount of subsistence I receive while attending school under Public law 346?

A. Yes. While taking a full time course in school, you are entitled to subsistence of $65 per month if without a dependent or dependents and $90 per month if you have a dependent or dependents; but if you are also employed, the rate of such allowance, plus compensation received, shall not exceed $175 per month if you are without dependent or dependents or $200 per month if with dependent or dependents.

Q. Will future monetary benefits received by veterans under the G.I. Bill be deducted from future bonus?

A. No. that portion of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, (G.I. Bill) which formerly provided that any benefits received under the Act would be deducted from any future bonus authorized, has been repealed.

Q. Is Veterans Administration issuing prosthetic service cards to amputee veterans?

A. Yes. Veterans wearing artificial limbs and who are entitled to repairs at Government expense may obtain a prosthetic service card. The card enables the veteran to obtain immediate repair service up to a limit of $35 without prior approval from Veterans Administration.

Q. How do I go about filing a claim for pension on the death of a veteran who was my sole support?

A. You should file your claim for pension with the Veterans Administration on VA Form 535.

Coumbus Dentist, Who May Be Oldest In Country, Is Dead

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec 5 — A career begun 78 years ago ended yesterday with the death of Dr William T Wallace, 96, believed to be the oldest practicing dentist in the United States

A native of Steubenville, Dr. Wallace placed his first filling when he was an 18-year-old druggist's helper in Uhrichsville, O He opened an office in West Chester in 1870, was licensed four years later by the State of Ohio and in 1881 was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania's college of dentistry

After practicing in Newark and Waverly, O., Dr. Wallace went to North and South Carolina for a 15-year stay, returning to Columbus in 1916

He was forced to confine his work to the making of artificial teeth in recent years, but he kept busy at that in office at his home and last month attended a dental convention

Dr Homer C Brown, past president of the American Dental association, said Dr Wallace was "undoubtedly the oldest practicing dentist in this country, and probably in the world."

Only 93,400 miles of United States highways are surfaced with concrete

Christmas Pudding

GRANDMOTHER'S PLUM PUDDING . . For a merry Yule.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

Associated Press Food Editor

Every year at Christmas time, my mother gives to very special friends plum puddings made several weeks before from the recipe of my grandmother, Charlotte Adams Houston. Every Christmas dinner at our house when dessert came around and the pudding was brought flaming to the table with a bit of holly stuck in its top my father would remark "Ah just a simple batter pudding."

It isn't a bit simple or batterish, of course, this pudding. It's very rich and perfectly delicious and a little of it goes a very long way.

My Grandmother's Plum Pudding

One cup flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 cup currants, 1/3 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup cut citron, 1 cup suet (or, in modern times 3/4 cup chilled butter or vitaminized margarine, chopped), 1 cup light molasses, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 2 cups dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup milk, candied cherries, candied grapefruit-peel, holly leaves.

Sift, measure flour and combine with spices, salt and fruits. Add suet, molasses, sugar and well-beaten eggs to crumbs. Dissolve soda in milk, add to egg mixture, then stir in fruit and flour. Place in well-greased 2 quart mold. Steam 4 hours over hot water in large kettle. This pudding is even better if it's kept at least two weeks. It may be resteamed for an hour before serving. It is always served hot. Garnish with candied cherries and grapefruit-peel, holly leaves. The yield is 12-16 portions.

Here are some sauces which go well with the pudding.

Trinidad Hard Sauce

One-fourth cup butter or vitaminized margarine, 2 cups confectioners sugar, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon West Indian rum or 1/2 teaspoon rum flavoring, 1/2 teaspoon angostura bitters (optional), nutmeg.

Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add egg and beat very light. Add rum or flavoring slowly and the bitters, if used. Heap roughly into serving bowl. Chill until firm. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve with hot Christmas pudding.

Hot Lemon Sauce

One-half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 1/4 cups boiling water, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, rind of one lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine, pinch of salt, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add boiling water slowly. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add lemon juice, rind, butter or margarine, salt and vanilla.

Sunday, rehearsal for the Christmas program of the church will be held, with practices each Sunday afternoon until Christmas. There will be a Christmas practice Tuesday at 7:45 p. m., also, Wednesday at 8 p. m., the Christmas meeting of the Luther League will be held, with Misses Marthabelle Kirk, Anna Mary, Marjorie and Joanne Kirk as hostesses.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Edema

The science of medicine contains a number of "don't-eat-it-or-not" propositions.

To the average man it might seem strange to treat a condition where excessive amounts of fluid collect in the tissues by giving the patient large amounts of water but that is exactly what is done in the newest and, many think, one of the best ways of treating edema.

Edema occurs usually as the result of some failure on the part of the heart or the kidneys. When the heart can no longer keep up the circulation or the kidneys fall down on their job there is a tendency for fluids to collect in the body tissues, particularly in the legs and liver.

Always, of course, there is an effort to correct the underlying cause by bolstering up and strengthening the failing organ but in the past the edema itself was dealt with just as you might expect—by limiting the amount of water taken into the body and restricting the amount of salt.

Recently Dr. Ferdinand R. Schemm of Great Falls, Montana, has shown that edema can be better treated by limiting the salt and giving large amounts of water. The extra fluids are not only valuable for patients with heart and kidney disease but also in women who have toxemia or poisoning of pregnancy or have hardening or cirrhosis of the liver.

If the kidneys have been damaged they may require from four to five times as much water as do normal kidneys to get rid of the body wastes. In a healthy person a quart and a half of fluid daily may suffice, but when there is severe edema of various tissues with fever, sweating and damaged kidneys, from six to eight quarts of fluid may be required for a day or two and four to five quarts daily thereafter.

Dr. Schemm believes that in the treatment the patient should have what is called a neutral diet. This means that the foods which form alkaline ash are balanced by giving foods which form acid ash. For example, milk which forms an alkaline ash is supplemented by acid-ash forming foods such as egg bread and cooked cereal. Vegetables and most fruits also form alkaline ash so they must be balanced with meat, fish, fowl, eggs and cereal. If the patient omits any alkaline-ash-forming foods he must balance the diet by omitting some acid-ash forming ones such as bread and cereals.

In view of the restriction of ordinary salt, ammonium chloride or potassium chloride is used as a salt substitute. Small amounts of plum, prune or cranberry juice which are acid-ash forming are employed in the diet and vitamin concentrates are advisable in some instances.

This treatment when carefully followed has been found quite successful in many cases of edema.

I have outlined a list of acid-ash and alkaline-ash and neutral foods, which may aid in following the physician's directions. I shall be glad to send it to those writing and enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope. Names will not be used.

CHURCH AT GALION WILL BE REPLACED

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 5—Erection of a new church at the earliest possible date, collection of a fund from the congregation for the pastor, Rev. C. V. Roop, and his family, and plans to carry on as usual were plans made by the Sunday School council and the official board of First Evangelical United Brethren church which was destroyed by fire Sunday night along with the parsonage and contents.

The Sunday School council and official board held its meeting Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Post. The board took action to ask members of the congregation to contribute to a fund, the goal of which will be $1,500, for Rev. Roop and his family. The family had carried no insurance on the household goods and the estimate of the loss was placed at $3,500.

It also was decided that the board of trustees will have a meeting place for this Sunday, with services to start at 9:30 a. m. The place will probably be decided upon some time today. After this Sunday it is planned to have a permanent meeting place until a new church is erected.

The official board voted unanimously to build a new edifice at the earliest possible date. Whether or not the present site will be selected or another one was not decided.

All organizations of the Sunday school and church will function regularly and carry on all activities as when the church was standing, the group decided.

Estimate of the loss of the church and parsonage, Sunday night, caused by the fire, was previously set at between $85,000 and $100,000.

Upper Council Studies Salary Ordinances

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 5—Police and fire department reorganization ordinances were read in city council meeting as council men prepared to set new salary and wage rates for city employes in all departments.

The new police ordinance also provides that costs in both state and ordinance cases be returned into the general fund that no portion of the [illegible] fall be given to the arresting officer nor to the mayor. John W. Milligan, speaking for councilmen on the police ordinance, said the chief purpose in allowing officers to draw increased salary and not receive "costs" would eliminate cause for accusation that arrests were made and fines assessed by arresting officer and the mayor might get costs from the

Baseball Trading Picks Up; Retiring Minor President Blasts Gambling

Important Deals Cooking In Los Angeles Diamond Pots

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5—Baseball trading appeared to be picking up today as the major leaguers opened their off-season meeting crosstown from the minor circuit sessions.

While announcements might not be made immediately, it was considered certain that a number of important deals were cooking.

Business Manager William Mulligan of the Portland Pacific Coast league club announced purchase of Tommy Bridges, veteran right-hander, from the Detroit Tigers.

Pittsburgh announced the forming of outfielder Tommy O'Brien to Oakland as part payment for the budding young outer gardener, Wally Westlake. O'Brien was with Hollywood last season.

Ruffing May Manage

Latest candidate for the coveted job of Los Angeles' manager was Charles (Red) Ruffing, New York Yankee. The pitcher gat his outright release after injuring a knee. Indications today were that Billy Jurges, mentioned for the berth, would remain with the Chicago Cubs.

The Cincinnati Reds signed long George Kelly as coach, and Cleveland sold second baseman Lambert (Dutch) Meyer to Newark.

The moving of Meyer, who batted .292 in 130 games in 1945, was believed connected with the previous Yankees-Cleveland trade whereby the Indians received Joe Gordon for Allie Reynolds. Newark is a Yankee farm.

Turner Signed at Portland

The Yankees also figured indirectly in the signing of Jim (Milkman) Turner as Portland manager. The Coast league club announced a one-year contract for the former relief hurler who managed Beaumont, Tex., another Yankee farm, last year. An informal Yankee-Portland tie-up was indicated.

Elsewhere along the diamond mart:

Brooklyn Dodgers swapped infielder Eddie Basinski to Pittsburgh for pitcher Al Gearheauser, who was ticketed for the Dodgers' Montreal farm.

Toronto took on Elmer Yoder, former Boston Red Sox scout, as manager. Yoder piloted Scranton in the Eastern league in 1946.

Sold to Sacramento

New York Giants sold first baseman Mike Schemer to Sacramento of the Coast league.

Detroit released Paul Richards so the veteran receiver could sign as Buffalo manager. The Tigers also sold infielder Jim Bloodworth to Pittsburgh.

The Red Sox sold pitcher Clem Dreiswerd to Louisville.

Cincinnati Reds signed Paul Florence, former Birmingham general manager, in a capacity to be announced.

St. Paul sold outfielder John Rizzo to Sacramento for cash and a player acceptable to the Saints.

Kansas City sent first sacker Johnny Sturm to Seattle in a cash deal.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 5—Fred Schaus of Newark, O., a newcomer to Coach Lee Patton's West Virginia university basketball team, led the Mountaineers to a 85-45 victory over Fairmont state last night in the schools' opening game.

Schaus registered five field goals and a foul in the first quarter and added 10 more points in the last three for a total of 21.

239 TEE OFF TODAY IN MIAMI GOLF OPEN

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 5 — With the richest winter tour in history in the offing, 239 professional and amateur golfers teed off today in the $10,000 Miami Open.

Friday's play will be cut to the 100 low amateurs and professionals.

The avalanche of entries here caused Fred Corcoran, PGA tourney manager, to announce that a preliminary qualifying round would be held Dec. 31 for the Los Angeles Open, Jan. 3-6. Exempted from qualifying will be big money winners, major past and present title holders and others, at the discretion of the local committees.

The Miami Open complete the 1946 program in which 45 tournaments were played for prize money amounting to $484,000. Both the number of events and total earnings represent new PGA record.

Ben Hogan, PGA champion, who is a 3 to 1 choice to win the Miami Open, and Sammy Snead, British Open champion, were among the first to file for the Los Angeles event.

The pros and amateurs will play for $140,000 in 10 tournaments along golf's golden trail this winter.

TALKING TO THE STUDENT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, halfback Bob Dal Porto (center, standing), of the University of California, demands that football players be paid. He asked $75 a month, plus room and board "so that adequate football material would come to the university." A demand that Coach Frank Wickhorst (right) and two of his assistants be fired outright was tabled for a week by the committee. The grumbling was prompted by the university's season record of two winning games against seven losses. (International Soundphoto)

College Football Gate Hits New High

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 — College football attendance spiralled toward a new high in 1946 with a survey of 87 leading colleges reporting a 48.4 per cent increase over last year, topped by Michigan's 514,579 count at its Ann Arbor stadium.

On the basis of the Wolverines' reported gross of $1,121,000, big time football drew well over $22,000,000 at the box office with at least 20 bowl games still to be added.

Crowding Michigan for top honors was the University of Pennsylvania which attracted 502,000 for seven games at Franklin Field in Philadelphia. They were the only colleges to better the half million mark.

Next in line among the first 10 in home drawing power were UCLA, 429,423; Ohio State, 371,017; California, 367,000; Yale, 357,000; Minnesota, 326,913; Tulane 296,430; Southern California, 297,119, and Northwestern, 289,000.

Grid interest showed the sharpest spurt in the South where a 58 per cent increase was noted in a survey of 26 schools drawing 2,528,032. Tulane, Louisiana State, Miami and Georgia were among the pace-setters.

Texas almost doubled its 1945 total by packing in 228,000 for six games.

The Middle West proved to be the most football-minded sector, drawing a total of 3,580,783.

Although Penn piled up the highest Eastern total, Yale's increase from 186,007 in 1945 to 357,000 in 1946 was outstanding. Harvard sold out its stadium, seating 57,7000, for the first time since 1937 in the Yale game and Cornell's gate soared to a new all-time high of 102,000 from a puny 33,800 last season.

Boston College, Navy, Penn State, Princeton and West Virginia also enjoyed a turnstile boom.

Bates' Bobcats Entrain For Toledo Bowl Tilt

By The Associated Press

LEWISTON, Me., Dec. 5—Bates' state championship football team leaves for Toledo today to put its undefeated, untied record on the line against the Ohio city's university Saturday in the first playing of the Glass Bowl.

The little Maine college rolled up 89 points to its opponents' 10 in winning seven games this year. Defensively the Bobcats had one of the nation's best records. They yielded only one touchdown and two safeties.

JACOBS STILL CRITICAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—Fight Promoter Mike Jacobs, 86, remained in serious condition today although his physicians said he had shown a slight improvement. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday.

Xavier Shops For Grid Pilot

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5—Xavier university, whose 1946 gridders lost seven of 10 games, is in the market for a new football coach.

The resignation of Phil Bucklew, the Musketeers' athletic director and gridiron mentor, was announced yesterday and university officials said they had nothing to say immediately as to his successor.

Paul Cain, chairman of the Xavier athletic board of control, who announced the resignation, said the board had "accepted Bucklew's offer to step aside."

The offer contained a stipulation that Bucklew's salary be paid for the remainder of 1946 and for 1947, Cain said.

Bucklew, a native of Columbus, was signed to a two-year contract last spring after his discharge from the navy.

A 1936 graduate of Xavier, Bucklew played professional football for the Cincinnati Bengals and the Cleveland Rams for four years before organizing the Columbus Bulls of the American Pro league in 1940. He coached the Bulls through two seasons before enlisting in the navy.

Bucklew told newsmen he considered himself "fired" from Xavier and said he had no immediate plans for the future.

West Coast Sports Centers Seen Still in "Small Time"

NEW YORK—The people of the Far West, through their sports writers, have clamored these many years for big league sports.

The westerners insist that they have reached the big time in the business, industrial and entertainment fields, but still lag behind in the sports picture despite their two great cities, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The former burg ranks third nationally in population, suburbs included. And the Bay Area isn't far behind.

Several moves have been made in the past to bring the big talent to the two cities. The St. Louis Browns' management, fed up with attendance which once found the 1944 pennant winning Browns playing to 600 people while riding a 10-game winning streak, tried to move to Los Angeles. Rumors had the Phillies and one or two other teams bickering for either L.A. or San Francisco.

Only in college football, with the Rose Bowl and astounding crowds at regular games, has the section reached the sports big time.

But what the citizens of the cities wanted was big league baseball and pro football. They did not consider the National Football League truly national because it extended no further west than Chicago.

Comes the All-America Conference and the westerners get their wish, in the form of an All-America team in Los Angeles and another in San Francisco staffed with familiar players—players who drew crowds of 100,000 when they sparkled for colleges.

In addition, the world champion Cleveland Rams moved to Los Angeles with Bob Waterfield, a local lad, pacing the eleven.

With top-notch pro football as a starter, the west was hoping big league baseball soon would move into the region.

Los Angeles' All-America entry—the Dons—opened at home in the midst of a tremendous publicity campaign. With motion picture stars holding most of the stock in the team and local college favorites playing many of the positions, the team looked like a natural.

But on opening day in the huge Coliseum, the paying customers stayed away in droves.

Some 80,000 had turned out to see USC cavort the day before, but there were only 30,000 around when the pros took the gridiron.

It continued to get worse. The Rams drew about 20,000 in their league opener and the Don sattracted around the same figure in their second tilt. And then, after a successful road season, the Dons returned home to stage a gridiron classic in Los Angeles against Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, and the rest of the San Francisco's '49ers.

A grand total of 12,500 showed up, including pass holders and relatives.

It has caused some people to wonder whether a town which turns out 80,000 to see a rodeo and 80,000 to meet Frank Sinatra at the train station, really is ready for the big time.

Of course, pro football has had trouble getting started in other cities too. Many owners would have settled for a 12,500 crowd in the early days of the National League.

It may be too soon to judge Los Angeles harshly. But it is a disappointment in view of the tremendous crowds predicted before the season opened. Both leagues expected Los Angeles to produce good crowds.

The crowds haven't showed up this year. But maybe they will later.

Judge Bramham Fires Shot As Major Loops Begin Talk

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 — Major league baseball executives swung into session today as minor circles still buzzed over outgoing President W. G. Bramham's parting blast at gambling in the national pastime.

Both American and National league representatives opened confabs expected to cover such matters as 1947 playing schedules, possible action to curb player raids by the Mexican league, a players' pension plan, and the major-minor league agreement.

The smaller leagues grouped in the National Baseball association prepared, not without considerable politicking, to elect a successor to Bramham, whose final report yesterday struck savagely at "the general decadence in baseball."

George Trautman, vice president of the Detroit Tigers and former American Association head, reputedly held the inside track for the minor czar post, but support was seen growing for President Billy Evans of the Southern Association.

Bramham, whose retirement after 16 years was officially voted by 42 minor loop leaders, was named life time consultant to the incoming president at $10,000 yearly salary.

Bramham, Duram, N. C., former judge, leveled charges that:

For the first time since the so-called Black Sox scandal, there has been strong circumstantial evidence this past season of players throwing games, betting against their own clubs (and) being in collusion with gamblers and bookmakers."

Investigators hired by disturbed club owners, Bramham declared, reported gamblers were so thick in some parks they blocked aisles and "cried out their odds like auctioneers." Despite preventive measures, the situation has grown worse, he said.

Bramham's suggested remedy: "Enlist the efforts of all lovers of the game, in and outside its ranks, to aid us."

The major circuit bosses were believed ready to draw up customary 154 game schedules, following informal mail vote indicating a swing away from the 168-game card tentatively approved earlier.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—Ever heard of a "T" formation in basketball? . . . Well, Loren Ellis, ingenious Valparaiso U. coach, planning one on the Garden court fans against Long Island tonight and while he says he didn't borrow the formation from football, the two are comparable . . . Ellis' diagrams show a one-man "line" up under the basket, a quarterback in the free-throw circle and two halves and a full just outside . . . He doesn't explain how they assume those fixed positions when most basketball systems seem to be g r a b-the-ball-and-run-like-heck . . . The day after the Pittsburgh Steelers concluded their season, Coach Jock Sutherland had seven scouts aboard trains for various parts of the country looking for big league football players . . . He probably would swap the total find for another year of Bill Dudley's performances.

Envious rivals are suggesting they'll have to locate ball players by radar . . . Assault Named King of Turf And Is Voted "Horse of Year"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—In a poll that popped up with the first unanimous vote in the history of the balloting, Assault today was named king of the three-year olds and "Horse of the Year" for 1946 by the sports writers of the nation.

The clubfoot comet from the wide open spaces, triple-crown champion of the Derby, Preakness and Belmont and first horse in history to win more than $400,000 in one season of galloping, was the unanimous choice as three-year old boss among the 174 writers voting in the 11th annual poll of the Turf and Sports Digest magazine.

Then the chocolate champ from Texas went on to take the Horse-of-the-Year honors by a 3 to 1 margin over Warren Wright's Armed—110 votes to 37.

Assault wound up with eight victories in 15 starts and a total of $428,695 in money-earnings which, with his two-year-old bankroll, put him in third place among the turf's all-time bread-winners with $445,945.

Armed clicked in 11 of 18 starts and ran all distances faster than Assault—two in track record time—although carrying 130 or more pounds in ten straight trips to the post.

Cards' Shortstop Marion Gives His Okay To Baseball Pension

NEW YORK—Marty Marion, the slim and smooth-fielding shortstop of the St. Louis Cards, has come forth with a plea for baseball's new pension fund plan.

Marion, whom sportswriters are wont to label "Mr. Shortstop" or the "Octopus," made an interesting poin when he declared:

"The public thinks all major league baseball players are rich. That's not right. Of course a few men make a lot of money, but the average player just gets by. Then when he gets through he has to start a new career."

The public misconception referred to by Marion is fostered by well-heeled ballplayers like Bob Feller, Hank Greenberg, Joe DiMaggio and Babe Ruth.

Feller has piled up enough cash in his seven active major league years to be considered a wealthy man. His name has been linked with deals involving many minor league clubs, some classified as high as AAA. The fireballer's ambition is to own a major league team some day. Greenberg, Di-Maggio and Ruth, all high-salaried stars, are also plenty solvent.

But despite the ballplayer's reputation for being tough with a buck, the low salaried major leaguers seldom find themselves with enough money at the end of their playing careers to retire. Some find jobs as coaches and managers but most, as Marion points out, are forced to turn to new fields. Grover Cleveland Alexander is one example. The great hurler who was a free spender during his years under the big top was located a few years back working with a flea circus on 42nd street in New York.

Under Marion's plan, a player who performed for five years in the majors would get $50 a month at age 45. If he played for six years he would get $60 and so on up to 10 years and $100, the maximum. If the player waited until after 45 to collect the money he would get a larger sum.

Around $500,000 a year is needed to make the pension plan work. Each player will contribute $250 a year and the owners will match that. That adds up to $250,000 with the remainder coming from the radio rights to the World Series—some $175,000—another $65,000 from the All-Star game proceeds, plus the dough taken in from inter-league games which are planned.

One flaw in the pension plan is that it doesn't extend to the minors as yet.

Low Center of Gravity Makes Tackle Great, His Coach Says

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Dom Fusci, University of South Carolina tackle who blows stalwart lines to bits, is a great lineman because he has a low center of gravity, says Coach Rex Enright of the Gamecocks.

Dynamite Dom isn't particularly tall—only five feet ten, which is not much height to go with his 230-odd pounds. But he is built close to the ground, and it's next to impossible to knock him off his feet because of that low gravity center.

It's customary to compare a tackle's legs with those of a billiard table, but Fusci's gams would make a billiard table's look like the extremities of a Chippendale chair.

"He's the quickest man on his feet for his size I've ever seen," says Enright, "and he has yet to face a man who can take him out of a play. With that low center of gravity, he can keep his feet planted firmly on the ground no matter what hits him."

Fusci's the kind of player who likes to be on the spot. He likes to mix it, and is confident of his ability to take whatever his foes might choose to dish out.

A junior from New York, Fusci was an outstanding sophomore player in 1942 and was the big defensive star of the fine 1943 team, making several All-Southern selections.

DUROCHER CHARGED WITH HOME WRECKING

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5 — Leo Durocher, center of uncounted baseball tiffs, found himself mixed up in a domestic dispute today, charged with wrecking the home of Laraine Day, beauteous film actress, and her husband airport executive James Ray Hendricks.

Hendricks, in an answer to his wife's divorce suit, yesterday charged the fiery Brooklyn Dodgers' pilot "clandestinely pursued the love" of the actress while "posing as a family friend."

To which Leo replied: "There's not a word of truth in Ray's charges—and he knows it."

And Miss Day said: "All the charges are deliberate and malicious lies."

The petition recited that, after a series of meetings here, aboard a plane and in Chicago, Durocher and Miss Day told Hendricks they were in love, and the baseball pilot added he wanted to marry her.

Hendrick said the "shock of the foregoing events completely overwhelmed me beyond description and words."

3,000 Kinds of Chicks Displayed at Show

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5 — More than 3,000 varieties of chickens and pigeons went on display today as the four-day Cleveland poultry show opened.

Sponsors said it was the first full-dress display of fowl since the International Poultry congress in 1939. More than 400 exhibitors were represented.

One of the industrial displays was an electronic rat trap in which the rodents are electrocuted after scampering down a narrow passageway with an opening and closing doorway.

ATOMIC POWER SEEN NEAR PAR WITH COAL

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5 — Atomic power plants can be constructed on the eastern seaboard to compete economically with those using coal if bituminous prices rise as high a $10 a ton, says an executive of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic project.

Dr. Charles A. Thomas, vice president of the Monsanto Chemical Co. and now directing the conversion of the Oak Ridge plant to non-military uses, declared that at the present price of $7 a ton, coal is the cheaper form.

But even if technological progress or rising coal prices bring about the atomic power plant, Dr. Thomas said, atomic energy never would wipe out the coal or oil industries. He said it would supplement—rather than supplant—use of these fuels.

The first experimental power plant ever to use atomic energy will be in operation at Oak Ridge by 1948, Dr. Thomas told a lecture group at the University of Pennsylvania last night.

The Oak Ridge unit, he said, costs two and one-half times as much to build as would one using coal, but he added that technological advances would reduce the initial outlay considerably.

Still Support Clerks

"This is not to be construed as a withdrawal of our support for the clerks in their strike on Kahn's and Hastings stores," he added. The general walkout grew out of a protest to police action in convoying non-union trucks through picket lines to the stores.

The separate actions by the machinists and teamsters came after two days that saw transportation tied up throughout the affected area, some stores closed and householders running low on food stocks and gasoline for their automobiles.

There was little or no violence, as both parties to the conflict counseled against outbreaks.

Other developments of the labor walkout which took 100,000 workers off their jobs:

U. S. Enters Dispute

The U. S. conciliation service entered the dispute, Commissioner Wayne Kenaston meeting with union representatives and a citizens' group.

Union leaders, on request of city and health officials, relaxed the strike's grip on essential services. Elevator service was provided for medical buildings, gasoline for city automobiles, laundry service for hospitals, and some food stores and service stations opened.

Approximately 5,000 strikers continued mass picketing in the areas adjacent to the two stores that are focal points of the dispute.

Newspapers in the area were forced to cease publishing.

have also stopped or sharply limited miners' credit.

From hard-hit Denver where trees were being chopped to keep people warm to Hamilton, O. where a complete fuel-saving blackout darkened the city of 60,000, the nation felt in varying degree the spreading effects of the coal stoppage.

Elkhart, Ind., with only a 10-day supply of coal, planned to close all schools, theaters, taverns and public meeting places starting at midnight Friday.

Body Found in Exact Position of Photograph

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGNELES, Dec. 5—The nude body of Vernal J. Frye, high school chemistry instructor and amateur photographer, was found hanging from the ceiling of his darkroom yesterday in almost exact imitation of a picture of himself, suspended from a negative drying wire before him. His body was found with ropes about the ankles, knees and thighs, a gag in its mouth and a hangman's noose about the neck. In the photograph, apparently taken by Frye himself, he was in almost the same position except that he was suspended by his wrists rather than by his neck.

VA TO SPEED UP VET SUBSISTENCE CHECKS

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5—The Veterans Administration branch office here today instructed its field offices in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to make every effort to expedite payment by Dec. 20 of subsistence allowances to eligible veterans who have not been receiving these payments while enrolled in educational or training institutions.

VA Deputy Administrator Ralph H. Stone directed that an immediate survey be made at all educational and training institutions to determine the number of veterans who have not been receiving subsistence payments. VA then will endeavor to expedite payment in delinquent cases.

VA admitted there have been numerous cases of delayed payments, resulting chiefly from the unprecedented enrollment of veterans at educational and on-the-job training institutions.

Veterans who have not received their subsistence check within the past two months are urged to contact their training officer or nearest VA contact office immediately. This will assist, Stone said, in reaching such cases as might be missed in the present survey.

GREECE HURLS CHARGES

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 5—Greece charged today that "the whole guerrilla movement against Greece is receiving substantial support from the countries adjacent to Greece's northern boundaries, and particularly from Yugoslavia."

DAYTON TEACHERS THREATEN WALKOUT

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Dec. 5—High school teachers here have threatened to strike after the Christmas holidays ending Jan. 6 unless the school board revises a 1947 schedule of salary increases to eliminate what the AFL American Federation of Teachers' local union claims is discrimination in favor of grade school teachers and school administrators.

Union members voted yesterday to stay away from classrooms if the school board puts into effect a proposed salary schedule on Jan. 1. Of the 200 voting only five dissented.

The schedule would appropriate pay increases from $550,000 expected to accrue from a 1.5 mill levy approved by voters in the Nov. 5 election.

Union spokesmen said the union had 265 members among Dayton's 351 high school teachers. Of Dayton's public school pupils, 8,217 are high school students. Union organizer Thomas Murray said janitors, firemen and other maintenance employes in nine high schools would support the teachers. Grade schools would be unaffected.

The High School Teachers' union president, Miss Helen Hagan, said the pay schedule the school board intended to inaugurate Jan. 1 would increase the pay of some grade school teachers several hundred dollars in contrast to wage boosts as low as $6.04 for some high school teachers.

Miss Hagan claimed the board's plan would eliminate a differential between high school and elementary teachers and base raises on educational training and experience, favored school administrators and placed too much emphasis on graduate school work.

The school board's salary committee planned to meet Tuesday and the board had a meeting scheduled for next Thursday.

NEW YORK CENTRAL CANCELS 9 TRAINS

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5—The New York Central system today announced cancellation of nine additional Cincinnati trains in accordance with government orders cutting rail passenger travel a total of 50 per cent because of the coal strike.

Cancellations are effective midnight Sunday and include: Buffalo express arriving here at 7:05 a. m.; Midnight special, leaving for Cleveland at 11:50 p. m.; No. 303, arriving from Detroit at 5:55 p. m.; No. 312, leaving for Detroit at 9 a. m.; White City special, leaving for Chicago at noon; Indianapolis - Cincinnati local, arriving here at 11:25 a. m., and the James Whitcomb Riley, leaving for Chicago at 8:30 a. m.

The Cincinnati to Chicago train, leaving at 10:10 p. m. will be consolidated with a regular run leaving an hour later, and the train arriving from Chicago at 7:50 a. m. will become part of the one arriving at 6:30 a. m.

Meantime the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co. announced it would lay off an additional 50 employes at its freight installation here and in neighboring Covington, Ky. Monday because of the coal strike. Earlier, 500 workers had been cut from company pay rolls at the Decoursey Coal Yards near Covington.

LEWIS

Won't Discuss Plans

Lewis and his attorneys would not talk with reporters about what they planned regarding the strike. But their demeanor hinted there would be no wavering from the walkout which Goldsborough yesterday denounced as an "evil, demoniac, monstrous thing." Rather, Lewis' defiant courtroom behavior when sentenced gave his miners the cue—stand your ground.

Neither was there certainty that UMW would post bond on the $3,500,000 fine levied by Goldsborough against the union. A stay of judgment pending the appeal—in other words, a delay until the supreme court acts—depends on the bonding arrangement being made by 3 p. m. today.

If it is not, the justice department after 10 days could obtain a writ of execution which would send deputy U. S. marshals out to seize UMW property and assets until the sum is realized.

UMW attorneys said bond would be posted for Lewis' fine but indicated they would argue the question of bond for the union's fine.

And if the strike goes on, justice department officials said they could start a second contempt action. This could bring a jail sentence for Lewis instead of just a fine, and could bite another great piece out of UMW's $13,500,000 treasury.

A fine of $250,000 a day—as it figured out for the first 14 days of the strike—is suitable penalty for the "hunger and cold, and unemployment and destitution" which has been caused, Goldsborough ruled.

The court emphasized also that Lewis deserved jail, in his opinion, and only escaped it because the government so recommended.

A federal official, who is in daily touch with government strategy, told reporters that evidence is being collected to support prosecution under the Smith-Connally act. He intimated that whether it is actually brought about would depend on developments.

Forbids Strikes

This law, also known as the war labor disputes act, forbids strikes against the government and provides a top penalty of 5,000 and one year in jail for persons who "coerce, instigate, induce, conspire with or encourage" any strike in a government held plant.

Goldsborough already has ruled that Lewis has instigated, induced and encouraged the soft coal strike.

When Goldsborough imposed the big fines, he issued a temporary injunction. It requires Lewis to take exactly the same action as the earlier restraining order which he ignored with the resulting contempt conviction.

It tells him: End the strike by withdrawing your notice which broke off the contract covering the government-held coal mines.

Could Charge New Contempts

The government could go on charging new "contempts" as long as Lewis fails to obey. It would take only four such fines as yesterday's to break the union's treasury.

In fact, AFL General Counsel Joseph A. Padway angrily told the court yesterday that this was the exact intent of the "cruel and unusual" fine. He declared it was designed to "break the union politically, financially and morally."

Lewis came to his feet, his great bulk tense with suppressed rage.

"Sir, I don't wish to ask for mercy from your court," he told Judge Goldsborough.

The jurist quickly interrupted with the warning not to get into "another contempt."

His lawyers tugging at his coat, Lewis subsided.

Goldsborough spoke quietly but in the plainest of language.

"If it becomes a question of the destruction of this union or the preservation of this republic," he said, "the republic is going to be preserved."

MARKET ATTRACTS SOME SUPPORT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—The stock market attracted support today after an early stumble although many leaders remained on the casualty list.

Initial selling was attributed to disappointment over failure of a coal strike settlement to develop in the wake of Wednesday's unsubstantiated reports which brought a sharp rally.

Laggards included U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Boeing, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Smelting, Du Pont, Air Reduction, American Can, Texas Co., Southern Railway and Great Northern.

Resistance was shown by Continental Baking (on a favorable dividend), Allied Chemical, North American and Southern Pacific.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

Backward in the rush were Glen Alden Coal, Colonial Airlines, Cities Service and Panhandle.

coal piles vanished. Among those which closed yesterday were Alexandria in Licking county, Cuyahoga Falls in Summit county, Darby township school in Pickaway county, and five Athens county schools with an enrollment of about 800 pupils.

Ohio Northern university cancelled all night activities and Dr. Robert O. McClure, president of the Ada school said heat would be reduced to a minimum at 3 p. m. and lights would be out in all university buildings by 7 p. m. daily.

Mean Many Different Things To Many Different People

Of two things all should be conscious—interest and safety. To have money which is not "working," or earning interest, is a lost opportunity; to risk loss of capital by fire or theft AND earnings is double carelessness. We offer you safety . . . with profit.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"I HAVE no doubt you will bring them back safely," my father said suavely. "But I am afraid 'Mr. X.' that you will have to give me a better reason for wanting to take these men away than you have yet vouchsafed me. Why can you not talk to them here?"

"I told you that before," the F.B.I. man answered, and there was something very like a snarl in his voice. "I can't bring here the thing on which I want them to check. It's too big and too important to be transported around the country.

"I've got to take them to it," he went on, but my father interrupted him unceremoniously.

Two Important Men

"And these two men are far too important to be shuttled around the country," he said.

"I suppose," he went on, "that we are talking about the same two men, Captain Charles Gouch of the U. S. diplomatic service, and his friend, General Chang King?"

"Of course, those are the two men," the F.B.I. man said. "And I cannot see for the life of me why they cannot go with me. Look here! Why not let me see them?"

"One of the reasons why they cannot go with you," my father answered, "is because General Chang King,"—his voice lingered over the syllables ironically—"is a very sick man, and Captain Gouch is exceedingly busy taking care of him."

A Few Minutes

"Couldn't Gouch be spared for a few minutes?" Mr. X." asked. Then he added, "I really am greatly concerned about my men outside."

"I can relieve your mind on that score," my father said. "Jim, will you go outside, please and ask the captain of the guards if he has taken proper care of the three men who came with 'Mr. X.' Go out of the kitchen door, please, and return the same way."

"Thank you," "Mr. X." said. "That is very thoughtful of you."

"It's no trouble at all," my father said. Then his voice rose sharply.

He Looks Ill

"Charlie! Charlie Kent!" he said. "You're ill, man. Come over here. Better still, go into the library there and lie down until 'Mr. X.' is ready to go. He'll be leaving presently. You can find your way, can't you? We're all in here. All the women and the boys have gone to bed."

"He's all right," "Mr. X." said quickly. "Aren't you, Kent?"

"Yes, I'm all right," the taximan answered, but my father spoke again, this time with a militant note in his voice.

"Nonsense, man, I'm the best judge of that. Go on into the library at once. I'll call you when 'Mr. X.' is ready to go."

"But," the F.B.I. man said, and had no opportunity to finish his objection, for I heard Harry Underwood's footsteps approaching Charlie Kent.

"That's right, Harry," my father said. "Help him into the library."

There was a silence that could be cut as Mr. Underwood helped the taximan into the library. He returned almost immediately, and at the same moment, Jim came in from the kitchen.

Men Are Safe

"The captain says the men are safe," he reported. "All taken care of."

"I'm glad to hear that," "Mr. X." said heartily. "It gives me a little more time to try to persuade you to let me see Captain Gouch."

"I don't need any more persuasion," my father said. "I have decided to let you see Captain Gouch, but only for five minutes. If you can persuade him to go with you in that time, more power to you. Just come this way with me."

I heard the sound of retreating footsteps, then an instant afterward, a bellow of rage, and the sound of a brief scuffle. Then I heard my father's voice saying:

"Well done, lads. Get Charlie Kent back in here, and we'll find out what has happened to the real 'Mr. X.'"
